U.S. News & World Report Awards Selendy & Gay in the 2019 Edition of “Best Law Firms”

NEW YORK – In its first nine months of practice, Selendy & Gay, a New York City law firm dedicated to litigation and investigations, has been named among the 2019 Edition of “Best Law Firms” published by U.S. News & World Report. The firm has been recognized at a regional level in the category of Criminal Defense: White-Collar (Tier 2) and for its work in Corporate Governance and Compliance Law (Tier 3).

U.S. News has published its “Best Law Firms” rankings for nine consecutive years to capture the consensus opinion of professional excellence in geographic and practice areas. Recognition is based on client and peer evaluations of responsiveness, understanding of a client’s business, cost effectiveness, integrity, and civility.
